Our honest opinion constitutes a safe foundation on which you can rely. We are convinced that only clear answers will help find solutions that are tailored to your needs.

Personal exchange as a success factor

No matter what your question, the right advice is crucial. What moves you is at the centre of what we do. Our certified advisors will take care of you, analyse your situation holistically and, where necessary, will involve additional specialists – for example in the fields of tax, inheritance, financial and retirement planning. Our business customer advisors have specialist know-how to act as a reliable partner to companies.

Time for advice

Life can be hectic and complex. That is when guidance matters most. Often our customers do not have a clear idea when they get in touch with us.

But no matter whether you have a specific idea or you would just like to analyse your current situation: our advisors will explore your options and offer comprehensive advice. We will support you competently and as equal partners.

Close to where you are

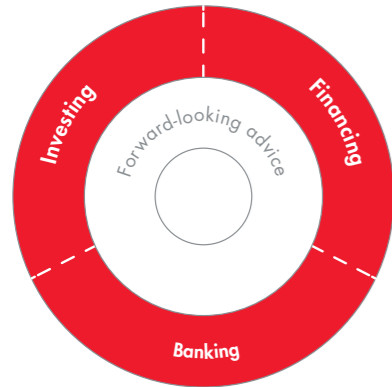

We will keep in regular touch with you. For simple, everyday matters such as paying bills or checking your account balance, our E-banking service is the right solution. Our customer centre in Liestal can answer a large number of questions by telephone or email. Trickier points and questions are best dealt with in person. We would be more than happy to set up a meeting with you in one of our advisory banks.

From concern to implementation

We are by your side to guide you through more complex issues. We start with a first meeting to thoroughly analyse your needs and current situation. In the planning phase, we develop interconnected and individually adapted recommendations. Given our holistic view, these typically cover additional aspects than the ones the customer may have originally focused on. And we will provide our honest assessment. To enable you to find a path that suits you.

Comprehensive support

To help you achieve what matters to you tomorrow, we advise you on matters of investment, financing and banking. Our comprehensive advice supports you in realising your wishes and goals.
